Mayor Wilton Won't Seek Re-Election

Public Hearing On Sign

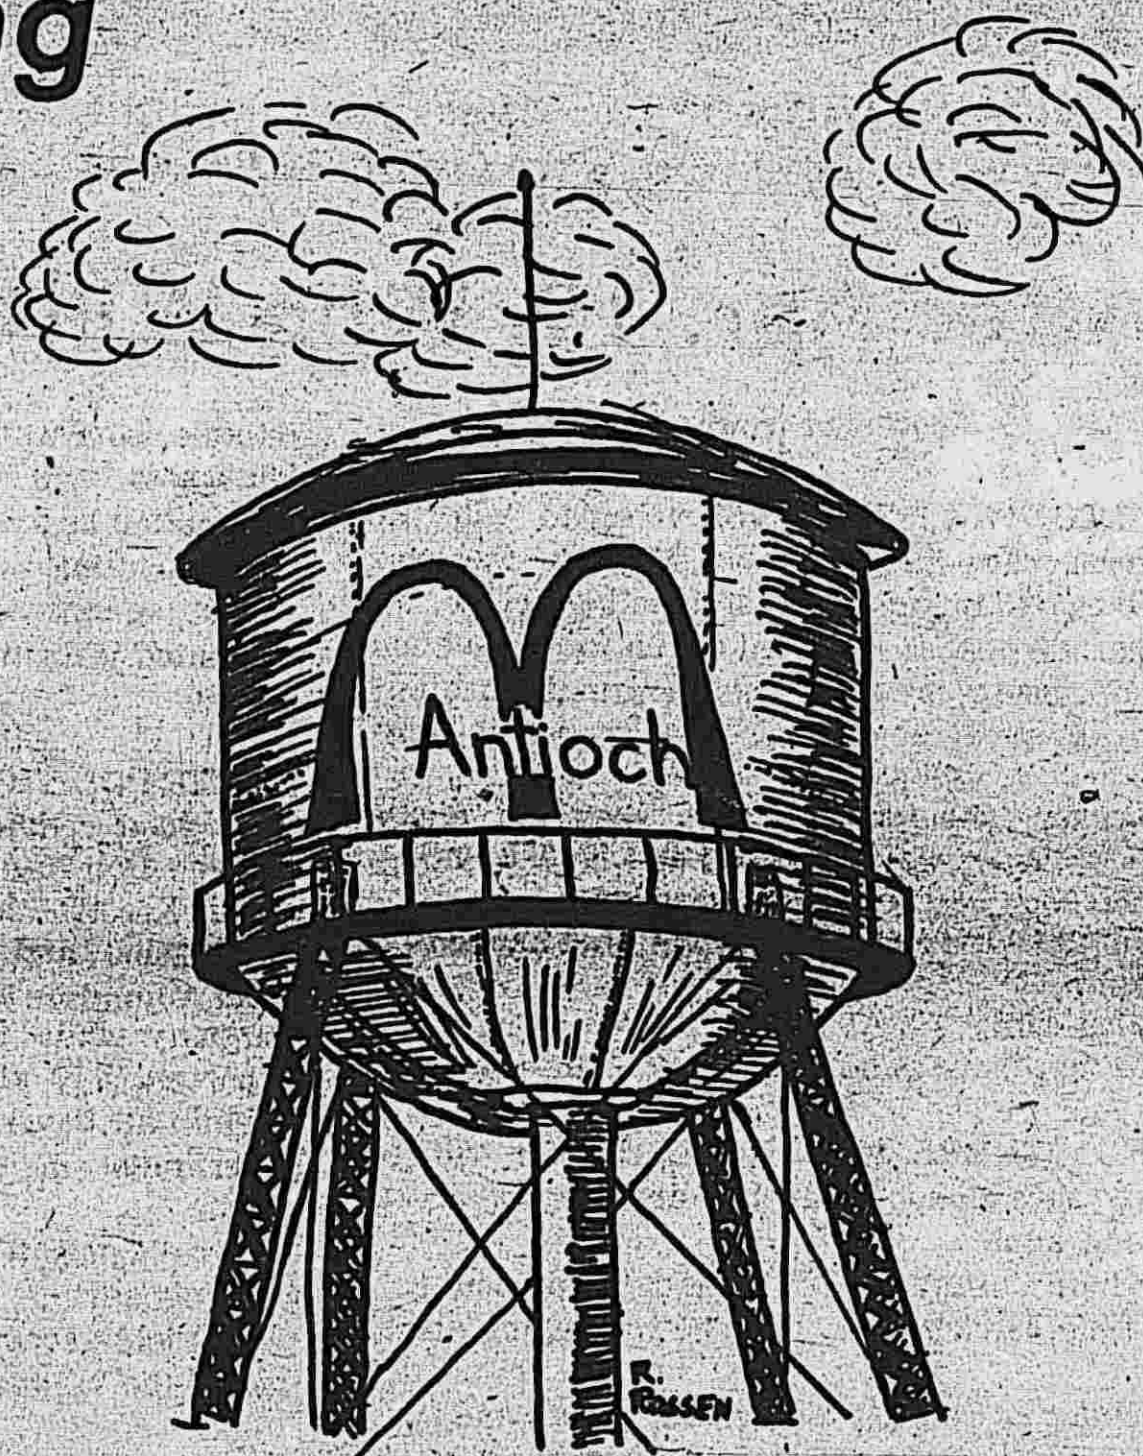

Next Tuesday promises to be an "interesting" evening at the village hall. The zoning board of appeals will conduct a public hearing to begin at 9 p.m. on the McDonald's restaurant request for exemption to the sign ordinance.

The ordinance, passed in August, requires that all business signs be placed flat against a building or designed in the building's architecture. The restaurant's standard, free-standing sign would be in violation.

At the Nov. 15 meeting of the village board, Mayor Robert Wilton, trustees and Chamber of Commerce representatives expressed concern that Antioch might lose the restaurant. Some plan commission members disagree, saying that the ordinance should be enforced for all.

At 7:30 p.m. the same evening, Tuesday, Dec. 7, zoning board members and residents will discuss Margaret Small's petition to change her property at 964 Spafford St. from R-5 (multiple dwelling) to B-2 (business).

The second public hearing of the night, slated for 8 p.m., concerns a proposed petition for 25 acres on the northern edge of the village. Petitioners Pickard, Olson, Ozga and Warren want an M-1 (manufacturing) zoning under a pre-annexation agreement.

Antioch will lose its mayor next April. Robert C. Wilton is moving to Mundelein. So he won't be able to seek re-election, even though he said he would like to serve the village for another four years.

Wilton is planning a Jan. 22 marriage to Annaliese Buck of Mundelein and they plan to live there. He will commute daily to Antioch as a partner in the Wilton Electric Co.

WILTON WAS ELECTED mayor of Antioch in April of 1973 after serving eight years as a village trustee.

His "Citizen's Action Party" included trustees Michael J. Haley, William H. Seemann and Ronald J. Cunningham.

"I feel we've had a real good program in the last four years," Wilton said. "Our party had an eight-point program and we accomplished seven of them."

The exception was improved garbage pick-up. "We made two attempts to come up with a program, but it was too costly for the village to provide the service and do the collecting and billing," he said. "We wouldn't have saved anything by it."

THE OTHER PROGRAMS in Wilton's "Citizen's Action Party" were community growth and land-use plan, state and federal funding, parks, playgrounds and recreational facilities, industrial growth and development, street improvement program, mosquito control and flood control.

The mayor feels accomplishments were made in those areas.

"The development of our park program has been very good," he pointed out. "We also have established a fine working relationship with the Chamber of Commerce and Industry. This is important, because Antioch is a business-oriented community and without the sales tax we receive our services would have to be cut way back."

Wilton also mentioned the Sequoit Creek enclosure project and other work that relieved flooding in the Oakwood Knolls area and other neighborhoods east of Antioch's Main St.

Antioch Must Select New Mayor

By JERRY PFARR

Since Robert C. Wilton has announced he won't run for re-election as mayor of Antioch, rumors are flying.

Because of Wilton's performance as a village trustee, and then in his four years as mayor, most observers felt he would be unbeatable if he ran for re-election.

But his announcement that he is getting married and moving to Mundelein has created a big question:

"Who will be Antioch's mayor from 1977 until 1981?"

The village election is Tuesday, Apr. 19. Candidates can begin filing on Jan. 10 and the deadline is Feb. 14. The last day for withdrawing, in case a candidate changes his or her mind, is Feb. 19.

THREE NAMES HAVE BEEN prominent in the rumors sailing around Antioch the last two weeks. All three are village trustees: Ronald J.

NEWS ANALYSIS

Cunningham, Michael J. Haley and J. Irving Walsh.

Some village officials feel that service as a trustee is a prerequisite and a necessary education for being mayor.

Wilton was a village trustee for eight years before running for mayor in 1973. He never lost an election.

HUGO HOLBEK, WHO RECENTLY won an election as Republican precinct committeeman, has been mentioned as a candidate. But he said Monday:

"There's no way I'll run for mayor."

"But," said Holbek, "there's a strong possibility I might run for the village board. I haven't made up my mind yet ... I'm going to wait a couple of weeks and see what develops."

On the contrary, Walsh said "there's a very good possibility that I'm going to run for mayor. I will know definitely by the first of next week. My commitment will be known then."

Walsh is now in his fourth term and has been a trustee for almost 14 years.

CUNNINGHAM, WHOSE FATHER, "Missouri," is a former mayor of Antioch, is undecided about running.

"I think it's a yes or no answer," he said, "and at this time I think it is more no than yes." Cunningham said he would run again for trustee, but probably not for mayor.

In the 1973 village election, he received 776 votes ... more than any of the five other trustee candidates. He was followed closely by Haley and William H. Seemann.

Those three, Cunningham, Haley and Seemann, will have their four-year terms expiring next April and must run for re-election if they want to remain among the village's six trustees.

Haley said Tuesday:

"I'm leaving all possibilities open. It's going to take more time and consideration to make a decision for what, if any, office I'll run for."

After Apr. 19, Who Will Be Mayor?

WILTON RECEIVED 788 votes to win the mayoral race in 1973 and Marilyn Sterbenz received 791 to win the post of village clerk.

Mrs. Sterbenz is expected to run for re-election and, because of the job she has done in the last four years, political observers consider her unbeatable.

However, she said she has seen too many overconfident people defeated and isn't counting her chickens before they're hatched.

"We'll just have to wait and see what happens," she said.

Walsh said:

"To me, there is no finer clerk in the county."

TWO OTHERS WHO HAVE run for village trustee said Monday that they are thinking about running again.

William Carney said, "I'm undecided about it," and Dale Frasch said, "I've been thinking about it."

If Haley or Cunningham ran for mayor and lost, they would lose their posts as village trustees. If Walsh ran and lost, he would still have two years as a trustee. He was re-elected in 1975 along with Arnold W. Weber and Diane (Willie) Schmidt.

Mrs. Schmidt couldn't be reached by phone but reliable sources say she is moving soon to Minnesota and that she will announce her resignation as a village trustee at next Monday's board meeting.

That means an interim trustee could be appointed if the mayor and trustees agree on the person.

SOME POLITICAL OBSERVERS feel that three other good candidates for mayor reside in the village - Don Amundsen, chairman of the zoning board; Ken Wierschem, chairman of the planning commission; and trustee Seemann.

But Amundsen is an engineer with the telephone company while Wierschem and Seemann have important jobs at Antioch High School.

While all three play important roles in village government, none is expected to seek the job of mayor.

So, right now, it's Walsh or Haley ... or probably Cunningham.

A capable successor to Bob Wilton will be the talk of the village between now and Apr. 19.

Communities Apply For Federal Money

By BETSY ROSSEN

This Friday, Dec. 3, is the deadline for local governments to apply for grants under the 1976 public works employment act.

The grants, signed into effect by President Gerald Ford, last July, are designed to alleviate unemployment in the building trades. The total appropriation for the program is $2 billion; Illinois is expected to receive over $64 million.

THE U.S. COMMERCE DEPARTMENT'S

Economic Development Administration (EDA) regional office in Chicago began accepting applications Oct. 28, with 60 days allowed for final funding decisions to be made.

Currently more than 400 Illinois governments have applied for federal funds. The national total is approximately 13,000.

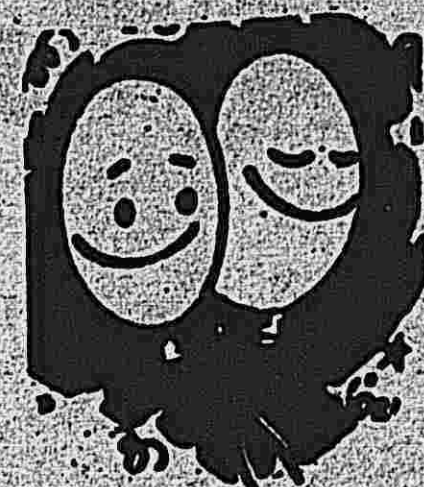

Any applications received after Dec. 3 will be held until it is determined whether funds are available for a second round of the program. The state department of local government affairs indicates that this appears unlikely due to the overwhelming number of applications received nationwide, which represent requests for nearly $13 billion.

APPLICATIONS FROM the Antioch area include:

- Village of Antioch - community center, 500-person capacity, east of Williams Park and off Corona Ave., $1 million.
- Lake Villa township - public works complex for

Burglars Work On Holiday

Thanksgiving is a holiday for giving thanks for divine goodness, but a burglar or two operating in Antioch didn't exactly celebrate it that way.

Two homes on Hillside Ave. were broken into while the residents were away for a few days.

Donald L. Hawkins of 767 Hillside reported to police Sunday evening that someone entered his home by forcing open a garage door.

Items taken were valued at $550, including $100 from a coin collection, $100 in currency and a wristwatch.

A home at 790 Hillside also was entered, the burglar or burglars breaking the wood frame off of a door. Rooms in the house were ransacked and about $200 was stolen.

At Antioch High School last Wednesday a custodian reported to police that vending machines were pried open. An undetermined amount of money was removed.

Republicans Have An Opportunity, Carter a Dilemma

By RONALD REAGAN

The Republicans have their work cut out for them.

They came away from the election with fewer House members and they are down to 12 governors.

They managed to stay where they were in the Senate, but they now control fewer than 20 of the nation's 99 state legislative bodies, and they lost one White House - the only one around.

In a nationwide post-election poll I learned about the other day, I detected one ray of light: there was no broadscale Republican defection on election day. Slightly more than 90 percent of them voted for President Ford, which reflects a normal attrition rate.

THIS POLL SHOWED that it was undecided

Independents, swinging late toward Carter, who tipped the balance. The debates helped him.

Watergate, according to this poll, had a lingering adverse effect on Ford, and the Ford campaign's 11th hour effort to take advantage of the Plains Baptist Church refusal to admit a visiting black minister backfired.

What's ahead for the GOP? Some editorial writers are calling - as they regularly do - for it to become "more progressive" (that is, more like the liberal side of the Democratic party). Others, on the right, call - as they regularly do - for its quick burial and replacement by a new party.

ONE ASTUTE POLITICAL analyst noted recently the growing similarity in conservative trends in Canada, Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Scandinavia, Holland and Germany. Is it

"catching"? Here, numerous public opinion surveys in recent years have found a growing number of Americans - now a majority - identifying themselves as "conservatives"

Allowing for a variety of definitions of that term, the GOP can take hope from those polls for its 1976 platform was produced by rank and file party volunteers. And, by nearly any measurement, it is relatively conservative.

The Republicans can also take hope from 1976 polling data which show Independents siding with them when it comes to basic priorities for government spending and government size.

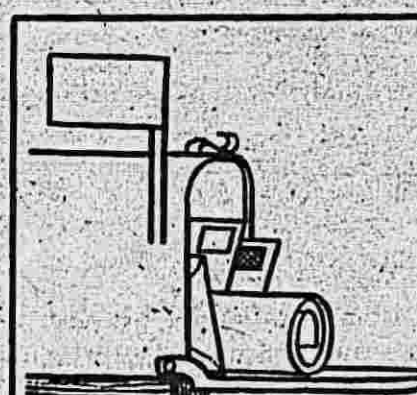

EARLIER THIS YEAR, the public opinion pendulum still favored more government services and growth over fewer services and reduced size, though that pendulum had been moving from left towards center for a time. By spring, it began moving rightward and it gathered speed throughout the year.

Why, then, didn't Ford win? Except for the remaining drag of Watergate, Carter's perceived "winning" of the last two debates and the special "native son" loyalty he had from the South, the movement of the pendulum would probably have carried Ford over the top.

The polls still show that a majority of Independents side with Republicans in favoring less government spending on social programs and a higher priority for national defense. Democrats tilt in the other direction.

WHILE THE POLLS may have surprised Carter, he has no doubt studied them carefully. They present him with a dilemma and the Republicans with an opportunity.

His dilemma is, that if he attends to the spending priorities of his labor and urban constituencies (which are taking credit for his victory) he may alienate the Independents and may drive many of the Southerners back to their conservative ideological moorings.

He could even drive them into the arms of the Republicans.

For this to happen, the Republicans must recognize the significance of the fact that Independents are converging with them on the basic issues and that Southern loyalty to Carter may be fragile.

If they do, and if they are farsighted enough to consider restructuring their party and perhaps even rechristen it, they may be in a position to welcome both sets of newcomers to a new home.

Student On CLC Board

An 18-year-old College of Lake County student was seated as the non-voting student board member at the Nov. 23 meeting of the CLC board of trustees.

Paul Miltonberger of Grayslake filled the position, which has been vacant for several months. Anthony Davis of Waukegan was elected by the student body to provide student input on the board, but did not enroll for fall classes. According to college policy, the student senate was empowered to fill the vacancy.

When the group chose Alan Thomas of Winthrop Harbor, a conflict arose because of Thomas' position on an elementary school board. Thomas withdrew from consideration for the position and the Senate appointed Miltonberger.

The board also approved the hiring of John Swalec, associate director of the Illinois Community College Board, as vice-president for academic affairs. The position had been vacant since July 1 when Dr. Ernest Dear left CLC to become president at Gogebic Community College in Ironwood, Mich.

Adjustment was made to the hourly rate for work-study employees from a beginning wage of $2.25 per hour to $2.30 per hour, which is the minimum wage effective Jan. 1, according to the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The next meeting of the board is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Dec. 28 on the CLC campus.

VFW Post 4551 is sponsoring a Christmas Party for children 12 and under at 3 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 18 at the Antioch Community High School.

Cartoons, puppet show, a visit with Santa and refreshments are offered to the first 800 youngsters.

Tickets for the free event may be picked up starting Saturday, Dec. 4 through Judy Muellemann at the State Bank of Antioch, Bonnie Litchfield at the First National Bank of Antioch or Mark McKenney at Antioch Savings & Loan.

Donations of Christmas gifts or cookies are requested for patients at the North Chicago Veterans' Hospital to be brought to the Antioch police department by Sunday, Dec. 12.

"Our next hospital date is Dec. 13," says post commander Jim Egem. "We welcome anybody who would like to come along. Let's show them that somebody still cares."

Pausing... What Have They Found?

By BETSY ROSSEN

Perhaps you've seen them. The billboards, bumper stickers, newspaper ads and buttons proclaiming, "I Found It."

What has been found? A mitten? A laundry ticket? A missing $6.47 in a checkbook?

ANSWER: NONE OF THE ABOVE. Instead, the "it" is "new life in Christ," the main feature of "Here's Life, America," a campaign now on in Chicago and 139 other cities nationwide.

Locally, the three-week outreach is sponsored by the Antioch Evangelical Free Church. Members are calling Antioch residents to offer them the opportunity to talk about new life and how to find it.

People have also been calling a Schaumburg number, 843-0600, to inquire about the "I Found It" message. An average of 250 calls an hour reach the phone center, where trained volunteers answer questions and respond to requests for the booklet "Here's How You Can Find It!"

TWO ELEMENTARY SCHOOL teachers in St. Petersburg, Fla., have been told not to wear "I Found It" buttons. According to the Associated Press, "the button could violate laws prohibiting religion in public schools."

"It is a legal question," said principal Jean Sanzone. "I feel if the buttons are worn in the school building and a child asks what they mean, it would be bringing religion into the schools. That's against the law."

At the request of other teachers, area school official Lee Benjamin told the pair to stop wearing the buttons. "These buttons really belong in church," he said. "Wearing the buttons would encourage a student or parent to ask what it means. This would be promoting a religious belief in the schools."

IN THE FLURRY to separate church and state, a grammatical problem has arisen. With the swift exchange of a preposition, the clamor is for freedom from religion, rather than freedom of religion.

I wonder if those St. Petersburg administrators, and others of a similar view, allow evolution to be taught. This theory (I personally find far more of a blind leap is required to believe my ancestors were made in the image of a monkey rather than the image of God) has its foundation in humanism and a theism. Both are religions of another kind: followers chose to reject, rather than accept, the concept of a personal God who has acted in creation and through history.

(By the way, few teachers and students know that Charles Darwin, author of "Origin of the Species" and father of modern evolution, accepted Christ on his deathbed and renounced his teachings on evolution.)

Or how about transcendental meditation, a very popular subject for both the living room and classroom? Though its proponents claim it is purely a scientific method free from the spiritual realm, many philosophers, doctors and former practitioners firmly maintain it is based in Hindu thought.

On the opening page of a book by the leader of the TM movement, Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, says, "The unique book combines the practical wisdom found in the Vedic Rishis of Ancient India and the scientific thinking of the Western World..."

Campbell, Schwartz and Otis, Stanford researchers quoted in a 1974 issue of Psychology Today, conclude that TM is "clearly a revival of ancient Indian Bramanism and Hinduism."

IT WOULD SEEM that some are more concerned with freedom from Christianity than freedom of religion.

The choice is with the individual: accept or reject Jesus Christ's offer of an abundant life now (John 10:10) with the promise of eternal life tomorrow (John 3:16).

As John 3:18 says, there's no middle ground.

Community Tree To Be Lit

Antioch village officials invite area residents to the first annual Christmas tree lighting ceremony at 6 p.m., Friday, Dec. 3 at the village hall.

To help make the evening a community event, they ask that each person bring an ornament (homemade or commercial) to place on the tree. Prizes will be awarded for the most original ornaments.

Cookies and hot chocolate will be served during the ceremony.

Mr. Ralph Brooke and the Antioch High School choir will be singing carols to add to the Christmas spirit and, of course, Santa will be on hand to greet everyone.

After the ceremony, young people are invited to the Antioch fire station to see special Christmas movies until 9 p.m. that evening. During this time, adults are encouraged to visit shopping areas for the opening night of Christmas shopping for the village.

Ravenswood Holds 'Turkey Swim'

Three people each won a turkey in the Camp Ravenswood YMCA first annual Turkey Swim by swimming 183 lengths of the pool.

Sheryl Harrison of Lindenhurst, Paul Kruelach of rural Antioch and Steve Christoffersen of Grayslake were tied for first place.

Using three large dice, contestants had to swim the number of laps rolled. By using dice, every swimmer participating had an equal chance to win. Jackie Moller, physical director, said, "We had over 50 people participating in the contest from age six to 63 and each person swam all their lengths rolled."

Contestants, all YMCA members, could roll the dice and swim a maximum of four times a week for four weeks. Twenty-one people swam over 170 lengths in the contest. (One mile equals 72 lengths.)

Camp Ravenswood YMCA Pool is located on Grass Lake Rd. just west of Beck Rd. near Lake Villa and Lindenhurst. The pool offers instruction in swimming, diving, synchro, log birling, pre-school, gymnastics, and exercise and dance. The pool also has recreation swim time seven days a week for families and individuals.

Worst Joke Of the Week

By JERRY PFARR

IF YOU THOUGHT you read bad jokes in this column in previous weeks, wait until you suffer through this one:

It's about the damsel in distress in the forest. She called for help and the men at a nearby castle were willing to go to her rescue, but they had to wait for orders from the king.

The king picked one of his knights to aid her. The drawbridge was lowered and as the knight, resplendent in his armor and with banner held high, rode his horse across, a huge hand with yellow fingers appeared from the depths of the moat's murky waters and crushed him.

The king ordered another knight to rescue the damsel. Again, as he crossed the bridge, this time at a full gallop, the fingers reached up, grabbed and crushed both the knight and horse.

Terrified, the other knights cowered behind their shields. Fearful that there would be no one to rescue the damsel, the king called for a volunteer. The only one to step forward was a lowly page.

"Forsooth, sire, grant me the sword of honor that I might prove myself worthy of your standard," he said.

The king bade him go forth and rescue the damsel. He crossed the bridge unharmed, found the maiden and returned her to the safety of the castle walls, without the yellow fingers touching him. Which just goes to prove that you should let your pages do the walking through the yellow fingers.

Now, that's terrible.

• ISN'T IT WONDERFUL to have friends who point out that you have only average intelligence?

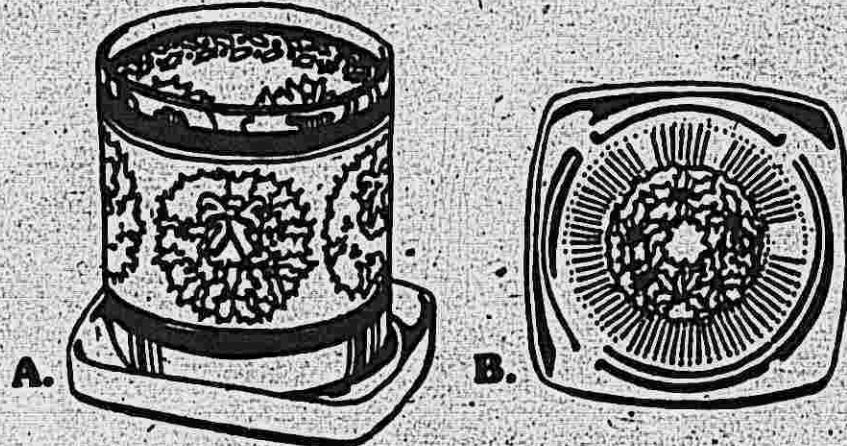

For example, this guy walks up to me the other night and says: "Count the F's in the following sentence:"

"Finished files are the result of years of scientific study combined with the experience of years."

Then he says:

"A person of average intelligence finds 3 F's. A genius gets all six."

But there are only three, right?

IS IT WINTER YET? The calendar says it doesn't arrive until Dec. 21, but somebody forgot to tell Old Man Winter. Last weekend's snow created this scene along Sequoit Creek where the village is beginning its Bicentennial Saw Mill project. The near-zero temperatures of Monday and Tuesday also gave us a clue that winter arrived early in Antioch, as usual.

'Ransom' Continues

It's family time at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch, as PM&L presents "The Ransom of Red Chief" on Friday and Saturday nights, Dec. 3, 4, 10 and 11 at 8:30 p.m.

Reservations can be made by calling 395-3055. Since seating is limited it is advisable not to delay. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children.

Each Christmas season PM&L presents a play for all ages. "The Ransom of Red Chief" is a fast-moving comedy about an aggravating young imp by the name of Johnny (Andrew Biel) who is nicknamed "Red." He is a boy of fiery spirit, wild imagination and a fierce determination to get even with the entire world of people that care nothing for him. He lives with his uncle Ebenezer Dorset (George Blanksten), a banker who owns half the town.

The plot thickens when he is kidnapped by 2 crooks, Sam Blake (Don Beveroth) and Bill Driscoll (Mark Jamison), for a ransom of $2,000 so they can start a real estate swindle.

Red is abducted to a cave (a master piece of construction by set builder Hank Apostol and set decor artist Pat Sershon) and at this point the 2 kidnappers begin to wonder if this venture is a wise one - their young captive is almost too hot to handle.

Director Tom Hausman from Antioch has directed many children's plays at Wilmot High School as well as musicals and dramas. Last season he directed "Streetcar Named Desire" for PM&L and was the Great Zorberfinger in the children's play "The Golden Grotto" and the king in "The Lion In Winter."

Legion Auxiliary Plans Several Christmas Events

Members and families of the American Legion Auxiliary will have a pot-luck supper at 6 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 6, at the American Legion Hall on Ida St. A short business meeting will follow at 8 p.m.

Instead of a Christmas gift exchange, members are being asked to bring items that can be used as gifts or prizes at the North Chicago Veterans hospital (formerly Downey).

Veterans affairs and rehabilitation chairman Dorothy Horan is looking for a group of members and friends to attend a party at the hospital on Monday, Dec. 13, from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

"We are also invited and encouraged to attend several other events scheduled to brighten this holiday season for our hospitalized veterans," she said. "On Dec. 1, volunteers are needed to set up the Christmas gift shop that will be open to the veterans on Dec. 2 and 3. This American Legion Auxiliary sponsored project gives the needy patients the opportunity to select gifts for their immediate families, have them gift-wrapped and mailed, all without cost to them."

On the evening of Dec. 9, all the units in Lake County attend the annual Christmas dance.

"This is always a gala affair which the patients really enjoy," Dorothy said.

Help is needed on Dec. 18 to distribute canteen books to patients with little or no income. These books enable the veterans to make small purchases in the hospital canteen.

The all-patient Christmas parties take place on Dec. 21 and 22, starting at 9 a.m. and ending at 3 p.m.

"As we enter this holiday season let us remember those less fortunate than ourselves and make plans to spend a few hours at the North Chicago VA hospital," Dorothy said. For further details, persons can call her at 395-1292.

"THE RANSOM OF RED CHIEF," PM&L's current production, was presented to audiences of children last week and will be staged again this Friday and Saturday, 8:30 p.m., for the entire family. Andrew Biel stars as the imp, nicknamed "Red," and Mark Jamison suffers through his antics, as in this horseback ride.

Christmas Concert

The Antioch Community High School symphonic band, concert band, brass choir and woodwind choir will present an annual Christmas concert at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 11 in the high school auditorium.

A variety of songs will be heard from traditional Christmas carols to modern symphonic band music. Tickets can be obtained from band students or purchased at the door. Cost for adults is $1.50; students, 75 cents.

"YOU BETTER WATCH OUT..." Santa Claus has already come to town! The jolly old elf, who looked a lot like John Christensen, was brought to Antioch last Saturday by the local Chamber of Commerce & Industry aboard and escorted by fire department vehicles. After a tour of the village, he visited with children at White's Ice Cream Parlor, where free cocoa and cookies were served.

New Massey Snowmobiles: Excitement engineering by the sled full.

Come in and take a look at three great new Massey snowmobiles for 1976, and you'll know what we mean by excitement engineering.

These Masseys are loaded with innovative new ideas that will add to your snowmobiling excitement this year - in terms of performance, handling, dependability and comfort.

There's the CYCLONE, the big performance cross-country competitor... CHINOOK, the economical compact... and WHIRLWIND, the exciting all-around sports machine with an unbelievable ride.

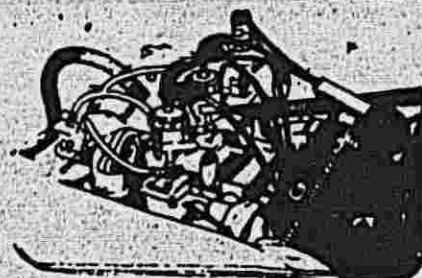

Each new Massey snowmobile has an aluminum alloy tunnel. It eliminates rust and corrosion problems while contributing to the superior power-to-weight ratio offered by all the new Masseys.

Then there's the patented Para-Rail suspension on the Whirlwind. Para-Rail settles the argument between bogie and slide by providing the best of both. You get the ride and performance of a slide and the marginal snow versatility of a bogie.

Rail-mounted wheels act as a single unit, working with a double-acting rear shock to give you a ride that's comfortable as well as extremely stable. And a unique "torque transfer system" puts sled weight to the rear for extra track contact during acceleration, then moves the weight forward for better handling and a smooth ride at higher speeds.

Another significant innovation is the Brooten liquid-cooled engine in Massey Cyclone models. This proven engine is a performance power plant, with both two-cylinder and three-cylinder models offering a Mikuni slide carburetor for each cylinder. Engine coolant is cooled by snow in a tunnel-mounted heat exchanger.

All new Massey snowmobiles offer a great new torque and speed sensing clutch system that delivers an outstanding percentage of horsepower to the track, without the banging noises often associated with snowmobile clutches.

A tuned exhaust system on all three machines helps you get the most from every drop of fuel, thanks to a scavenging effect that creates extra torque and higher rpm's. Quiet, too!

There's more to the Massey snowmobile story, as you'll discover when you come in. We've got service know-how, we have parts in stock, and we offer MF financing if you desire.

When you look at excitement engineering, and what we offer to back it up, you'll go Massey this year.

Winter Driving Tips

Cold winter mornings can sometimes plague motorists with car-stopping frozen gas lines, warns the Chicago Motor Club-AAA. This experience can be avoided if motorists keep a full tank of quality gasoline throughout the winter to prevent excessive moisture condensation. Added protection can be had by adding a can of approved fuel system antifreeze to every second or third tank of gas during winter's coldest periods.

To help open a frozen line, place a large light bulb near the fuel pump and gas line. The heat radiated by the lit bulb will usually do the job.

The Chicago Motor Club-AAA also advises wintertime motorists not to carry heavy sand or other weights in car trunks to improve traction. Too much trunk weight, instead of helping traction, makes steering difficult and increases danger in a skid.

However, the club does recommend that motorists carry salt, a small supply of abrasive gravel, traction mats and a shovel in the trunk for emergencies. Weight carried on the floor of the rear seat (just ahead of the rear axle) is more helpful than weight carried in the trunk.

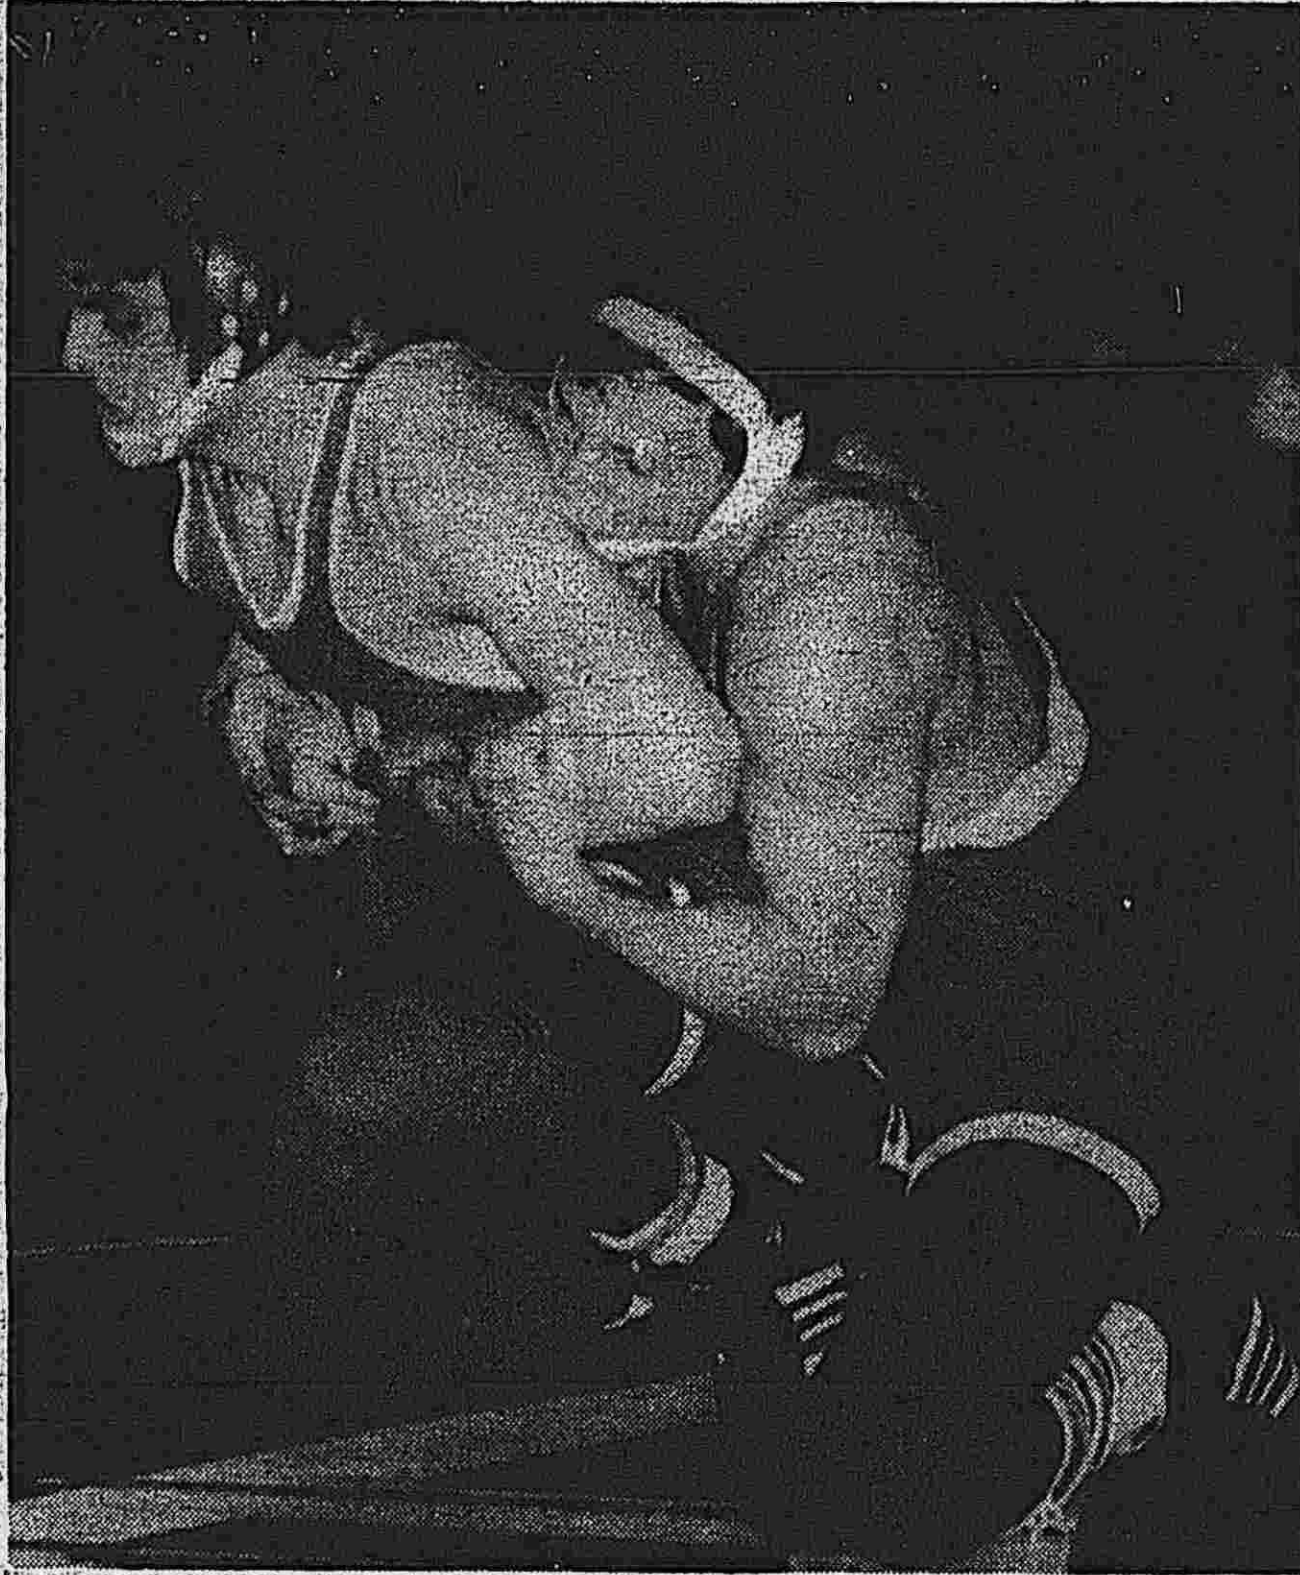

Varsity Wrestlers Defeat 2 Rivals

Antioch High's varsity wrestling team opened its season with a pair of victories last week, defeating Mundelein 30-18 and Zion-Benton 27-17.

Against Mundelein, 98-pounder Jon Gibson pinned his opponent in 31 seconds. Then Bob Gossman, at 105 pounds, flattened his foe in 1:37.

In the victory over Zion, Gibson scored another fast pin, triumphing in 1:02.

Saturday, at 1 p.m., the Sequoits will wrestle at home against Deerfield and Lake Zurich.

School Board Works on Building Needs

A recent state inspection of buildings in Antioch's Grade School District 34 resulted in the observation that "372 children in the district are inadequately housed."

So last week the district's school board approved the following recommendations to improve the situation:

1. Pass a bond referendum for new construction.
2. Construct a new K-5 building on or near the Upper Grade School.
3. Complete recommended work at Oakland.
4. Close Channel Lake to classes.
5. Channel lake gym to be kept open for community and class use.
6. Relocate warehouse at Channel Lake.
7. Initiate communication with the Village Historical Committee concerning the 1892 building.
8. Relocate one portable at the Upper Grade School site for use as administration headquarters.
9. All possible effort should be made to make the public fully aware of the current situation.
10. Appoint a citizens committee for passing a referendum.

THE BOARD ALSO SENT a letter to parents of students, saying:

"The 372 children are at Channel Lake and in the portables at Oakland. It should be pointed out that the state has not "condemned" these buildings at present. Rather, they have provided district residents with fair warning of future consequences.

"Possible consequences could include "non-recognition" of District 34; which would result in loss of state aid estimated at approximately $1,004,000 for the 1977-78 school year. The other possibility is "condemnation" of the facilities in question resulting in an immediate overcrowding situation at the remaining schools."

James Flood, one of the inspectors, said:

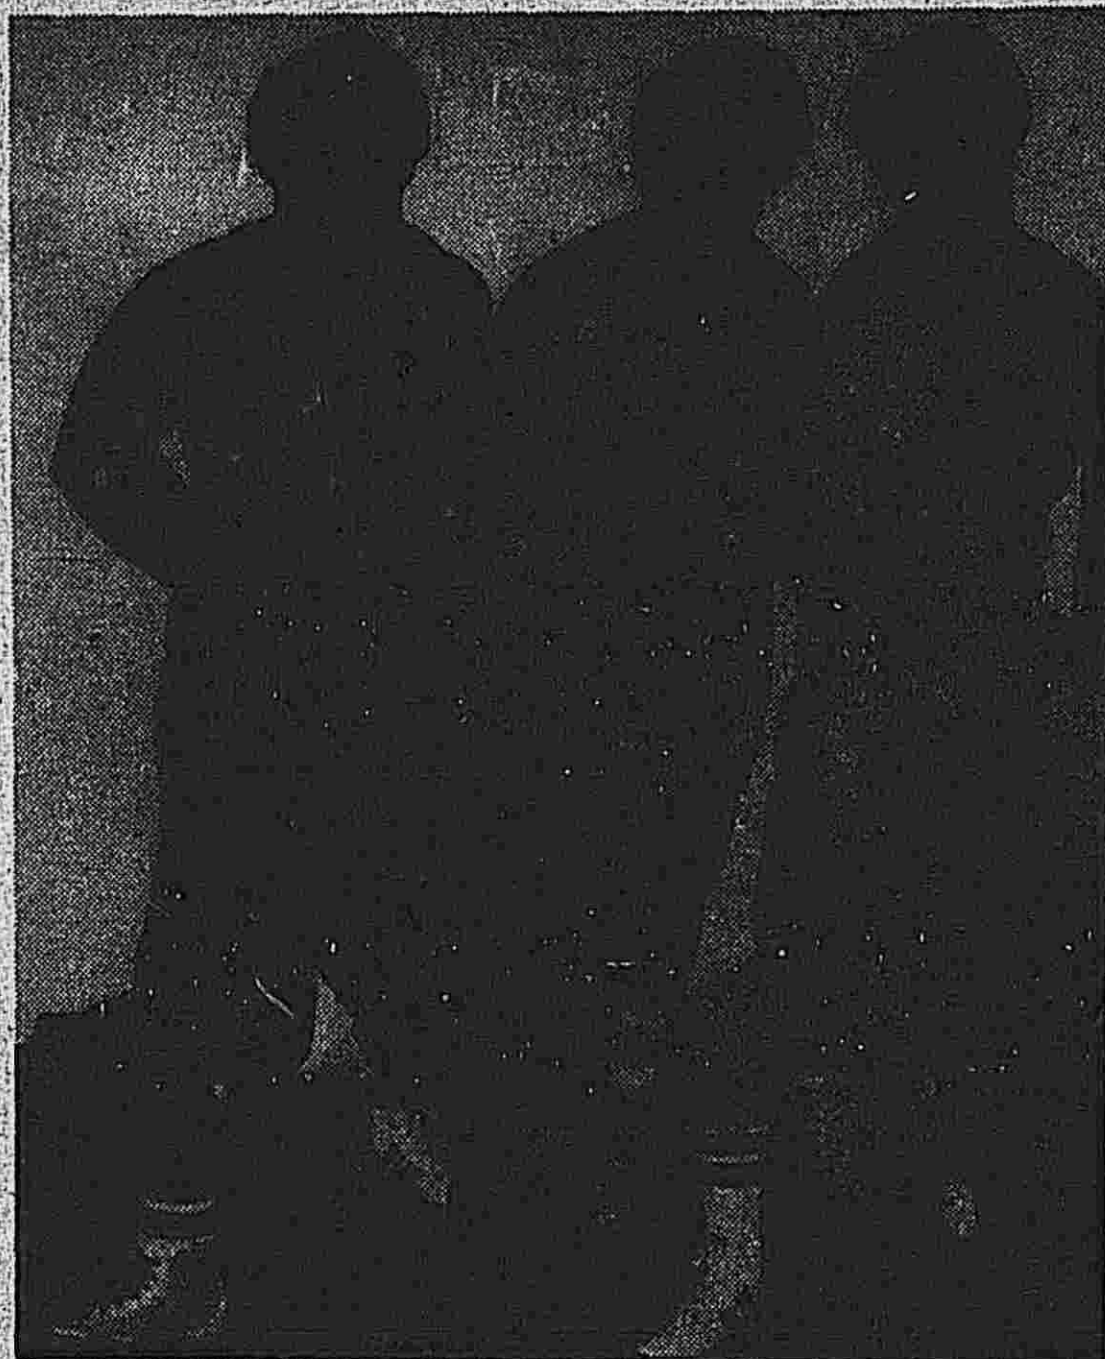

"I know all the problems of taxpayers, but something has to be done. Someone is going to have to get this across to the voters. I think we're getting to the point where the community should be condemned for not coming back to the school board with recommendations. How many years are they going to keep those kids in that inadequate Channel Lake building?"

A total of $210,000 is needed to bring the Channel Lake building up to Life Safety code standards and both the Illinois Capital Development Board and the Illinois Office of Education say the expense is not worth it. They will not provide funds, through grants, to make the necessary corrections.

Portable classrooms are designed for usage of five years. Some of those at Oakland are now in their fourth year.

The word "nice" comes from the Latin nescius meaning "ignorant."

Do you know about the home heating system that pulls energy out of thin air?

Introducing the heat pump.

Scientists have known for centuries that the air around us is a storehouse of heat energy. But it's only been in recent years that they were able to develop an efficient way to tap that abundant resource—the heat pump. Today, it is the only commercially available heating system that provides an answer to shrinking supplies of other fuels.

How the heat pump works:

Basically, the heat pump moves heat from one place to another. It uses electricity to extract heat from a limitless source—the heat in outdoor air. During winter, enough heat remains in the air—even on the coldest and cloudiest days—to be extracted by the pump and transferred indoors as clean, flameless heat.

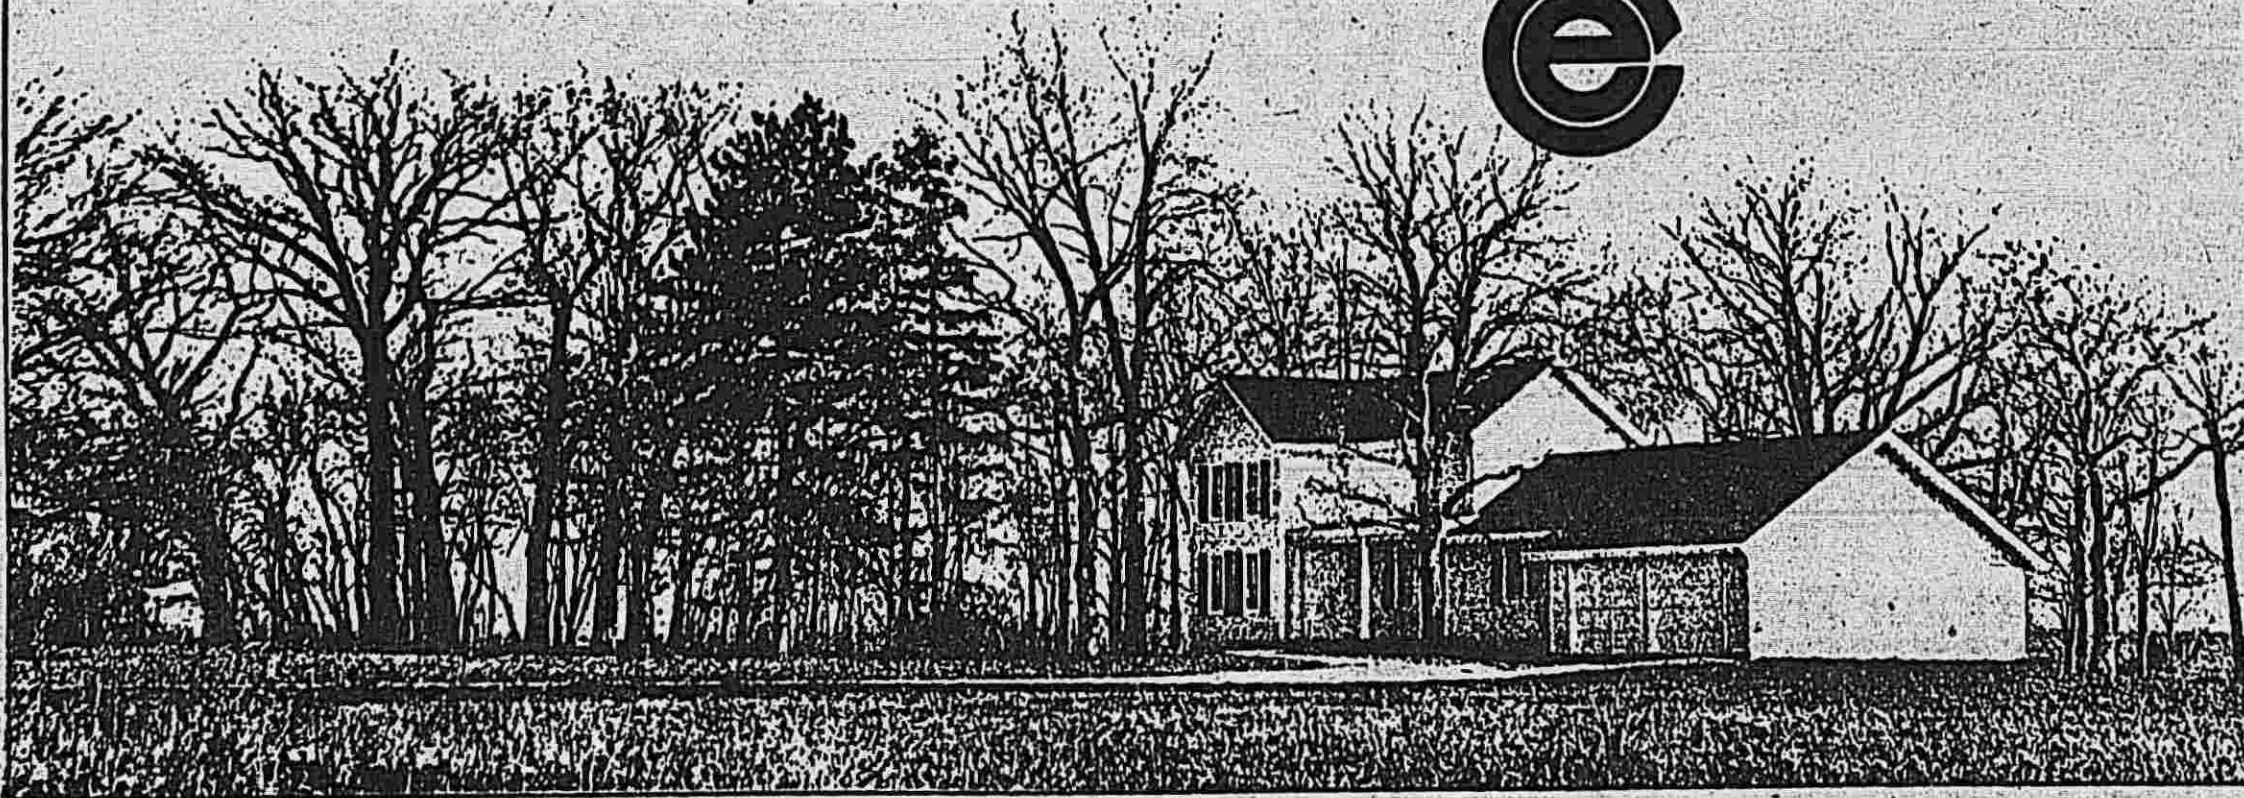

And during warm weather, the process automatically reverses, removing excess indoor heat and humidity like an air conditioner.

Better efficiency.

In short, the heat pump does the job of both a furnace and an air conditioner. But there's an important difference. In northern Illinois the heat pump can produce more than 1½ units of heat energy for every unit it consumes. That's better efficiency than any other current heating system. That could mean significant long-term savings on heating costs.

To get the full advantages of the heat pump, it's important to get a quality product, properly installed and reliably serviced. For the name of qualified installers in your area, call G. W. Berkeimer Co. (Westinghouse Distributors), 312-374-4411; General Electric Co., 312-496-6356; Lennox Industries, Inc., 312-593-2820; or Temperature Equipment Corp. (Carrier Distributors), 312-681-6220. If you want additional heat pump information, call your local Commonwealth Edison office and talk to one of our marketing engineers.

"They showed steady improvement with each game."

That's what Coach Roger Andrews had to say about his Antioch High School basketball team, which opens the conference season at Warren Friday night then performs before the home fans at 8 p.m. on Saturday.

Saturday's opponent is a good one ... Lake Forest.

The Antioch team lost its first three games last week in the Barrington Turkey Classic. But in the third game, against conference opponent Cary-Grove, the Sequoits lost by only two points, 68-66, on a 24-foot shot by Cary-Grove with only three seconds left.

REMEMBER, THOUGH, that this is an Antioch team with four juniors in the starting lineup. As sophomores they had a 21-3 record last year. There is talent galore in the Sequoits' starting lineup, and among the reserves ... but experience counts a lot, you know.

Against Cary-Grove the Sequoits showed scoring ability. Bob Dubek, Brian Andrews and Tracy Sodman, all juniors, hit for 21, 17 and 14 points respectively.

Antioch's full-court press rattled Cary-Grove in the last quarter as the Sequoits almost overcome a 13-point deficit.

Cary-Grove comes here on Friday, Feb. 4, for a conference game and the Sequoits can hardly wait for another shot at that team.

COACH ANDREWS SAID his top defensive players in the Barrington tournament were Tracy Sodman and Brian Andrews.

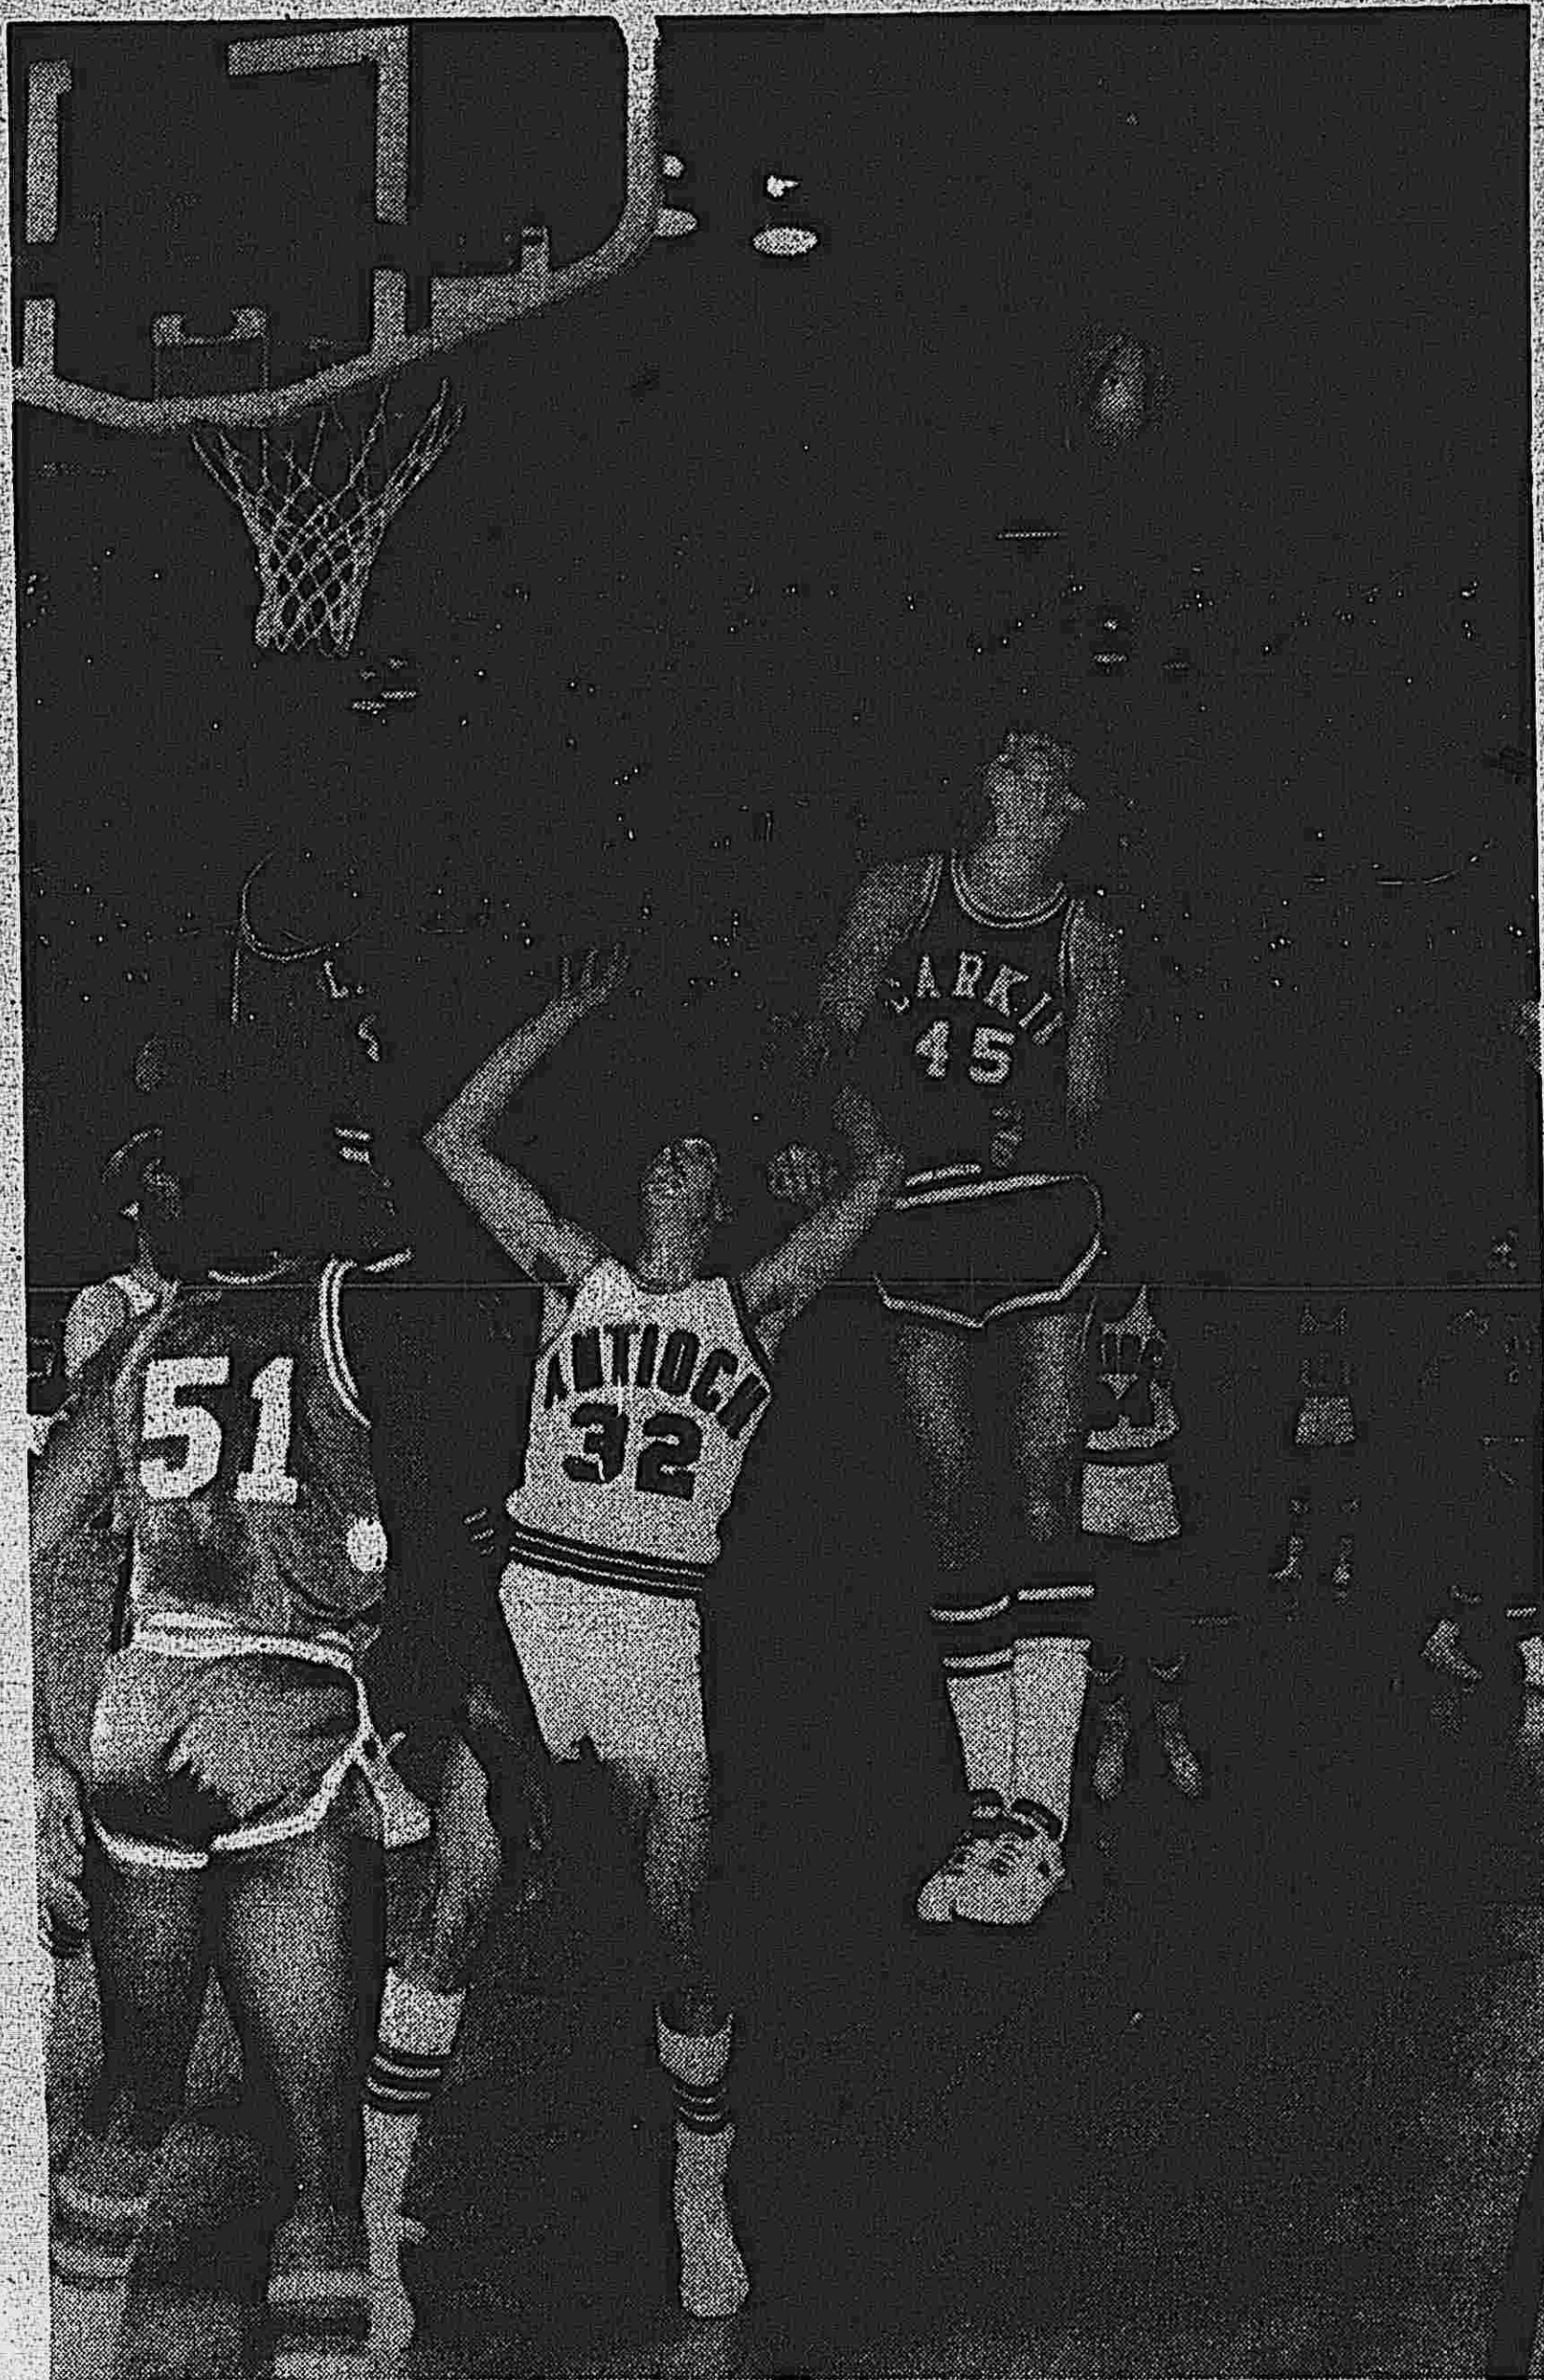

Andrews led the rebounders with 25 while Sodman gathered in 19.

Dennis Korjenek contributed 14 assists and Andrews 13.

Dubek led scorers with 58 points in three games. Interestingly, he hit on exactly 50 percent of his field goal attempts in each of the three games; 10 of 20 against Elgin Larkin, six of 12 against Barrington and eight of 16 against Cary-Grove. Andrews also swished eight of 16 shots against Cary, and Sodman showed remarkable accuracy when he took only 18 shots in the tournament but cut the cords with 11 of them.

THE SEQUOITS HAVE a 0-3 record, but their fans will follow them to Gurnee Friday night when they play Warren, and then pack the local gym Saturday night when they duel Lake Forest.

And the interest will be high.

USING HIS HEAD, Elgin Larkin's Bob Schrieber resembles a soccer player as he scrambles for a loose ball against Antioch's Tracy Sodman (32).

2 Antioch Stars Are All-County

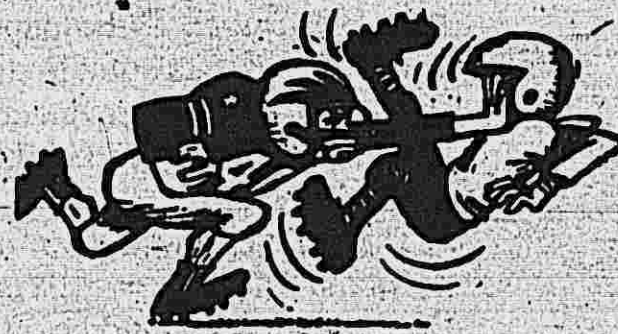

Two Antioch High School football stars, John Kakacek and Rick Dauck, have been named to the 61-member All-Lake County squad announced by the Waukegan News-Sun.

The previous week Kakacek and Dauck were named to the Northwest Suburban Conference all-star team.

Both are seniors.

Kakacek starred for Antioch as a 155-pound senior defensive back while Dauck, a 180-pounder, was selected as a guard on offense and also was a standout on defense.

Sequoits Are Eager To Start Winning

Face 2 Foes This Weekend

By MIKE WITT

The young Antioch High Sequoits took it on the chin last week in the Barrington tournament losing all three ball games.

They were initiated into the season by Elgin-Larkin 78-55, dropped by Barrington 64-57, and then lost a heartbreaker to Cary-Grove 68-66 on a last-second basket.

Barrington won the tournament as it defeated Larkin in the championship game 51-50.

ANTIOCH OPENS ITS CONFERENCE schedule this Friday night at Warren and begins home action Saturday night as it entertains Lake Forest in a non-conference game.

Sophomores start at 6:45 p.m. and the varsity teams clash at about 8 o'clock.

The Sequoits will be looking for their first win, and Friday night couldn't be a better time as far as Coach Roger Andrews and his team are concerned.

Warren will send into the pit (as its court is known among fellow players) 6-5 Keith Halvorson, and 6-5 soph Dave Kolar, both scoring threats. The Blue Devils are under a new coach this season, and their record stands at 1-2.

Mundelein destroyed Warren 110-63 last week. Kolar had 21 points for Warren.

Warren came back to beat Palatine 51-47 Saturday night with Kolar scoring 23 points.

Lake Forest won its own holiday tournament last weekend with three straight wins, beating Highland Park 61-58 in the finals. Trkla, a 6-4 forward, scored 22 points.

Antioch vs. Warren is an inter-division game; thus, the first of their two meetings.

Lake Forest invades Antioch Saturday night and that foe is led by 6-4 do-everything Tom Trkla, who already has a 35-point performance under his belt this season. Andrews is hoping his Sequoits can shut him down as successfully as last year when he scored only six points.

Coach Andrews is optimistic that if his Sequoits play up to their potential, they will add two games to the victory column this weekend.

"We started four juniors," Andrews said. "We're a young team and will take time to get acclimated to varsity basketball."

Here's what happened last week in the Barrington Turkey Classic:

Antioch-Larkin

Antioch trailed at the end of the first quarter 10-9, but afterwards were really never in the game.

Larkin's overall height, experience and pressing defense were too much to handle.

The Sequoits were obviously suffering from opening game jitters, as they committed 20 turnovers and had trouble running the offense smoothly.

But they never quit hustling and playing defense, and went on to outscore Larkin in the final period 23-21. Junior Bob Dubek hit 22 points for Antioch and Brian Andrews got 10.

Antioch-Barrington

The Sequoits faced a physical Bronco team that gave Antioch a taste of how physical basketball can be.

The Sequoits played on a par with Barrington in the first half except for a spell in the second quarter which saw the Broncos run off 10 straight points to lead 31-21.

Trailing by twelve at the half, Antioch made a run that pulled it within three points with one minute remaining, but Barrington's lads collected themselves to achieve a seven point win. Both Dubek and Tracy Sodman scored 15 for Antioch while Tim Huebner hit for 14 points.

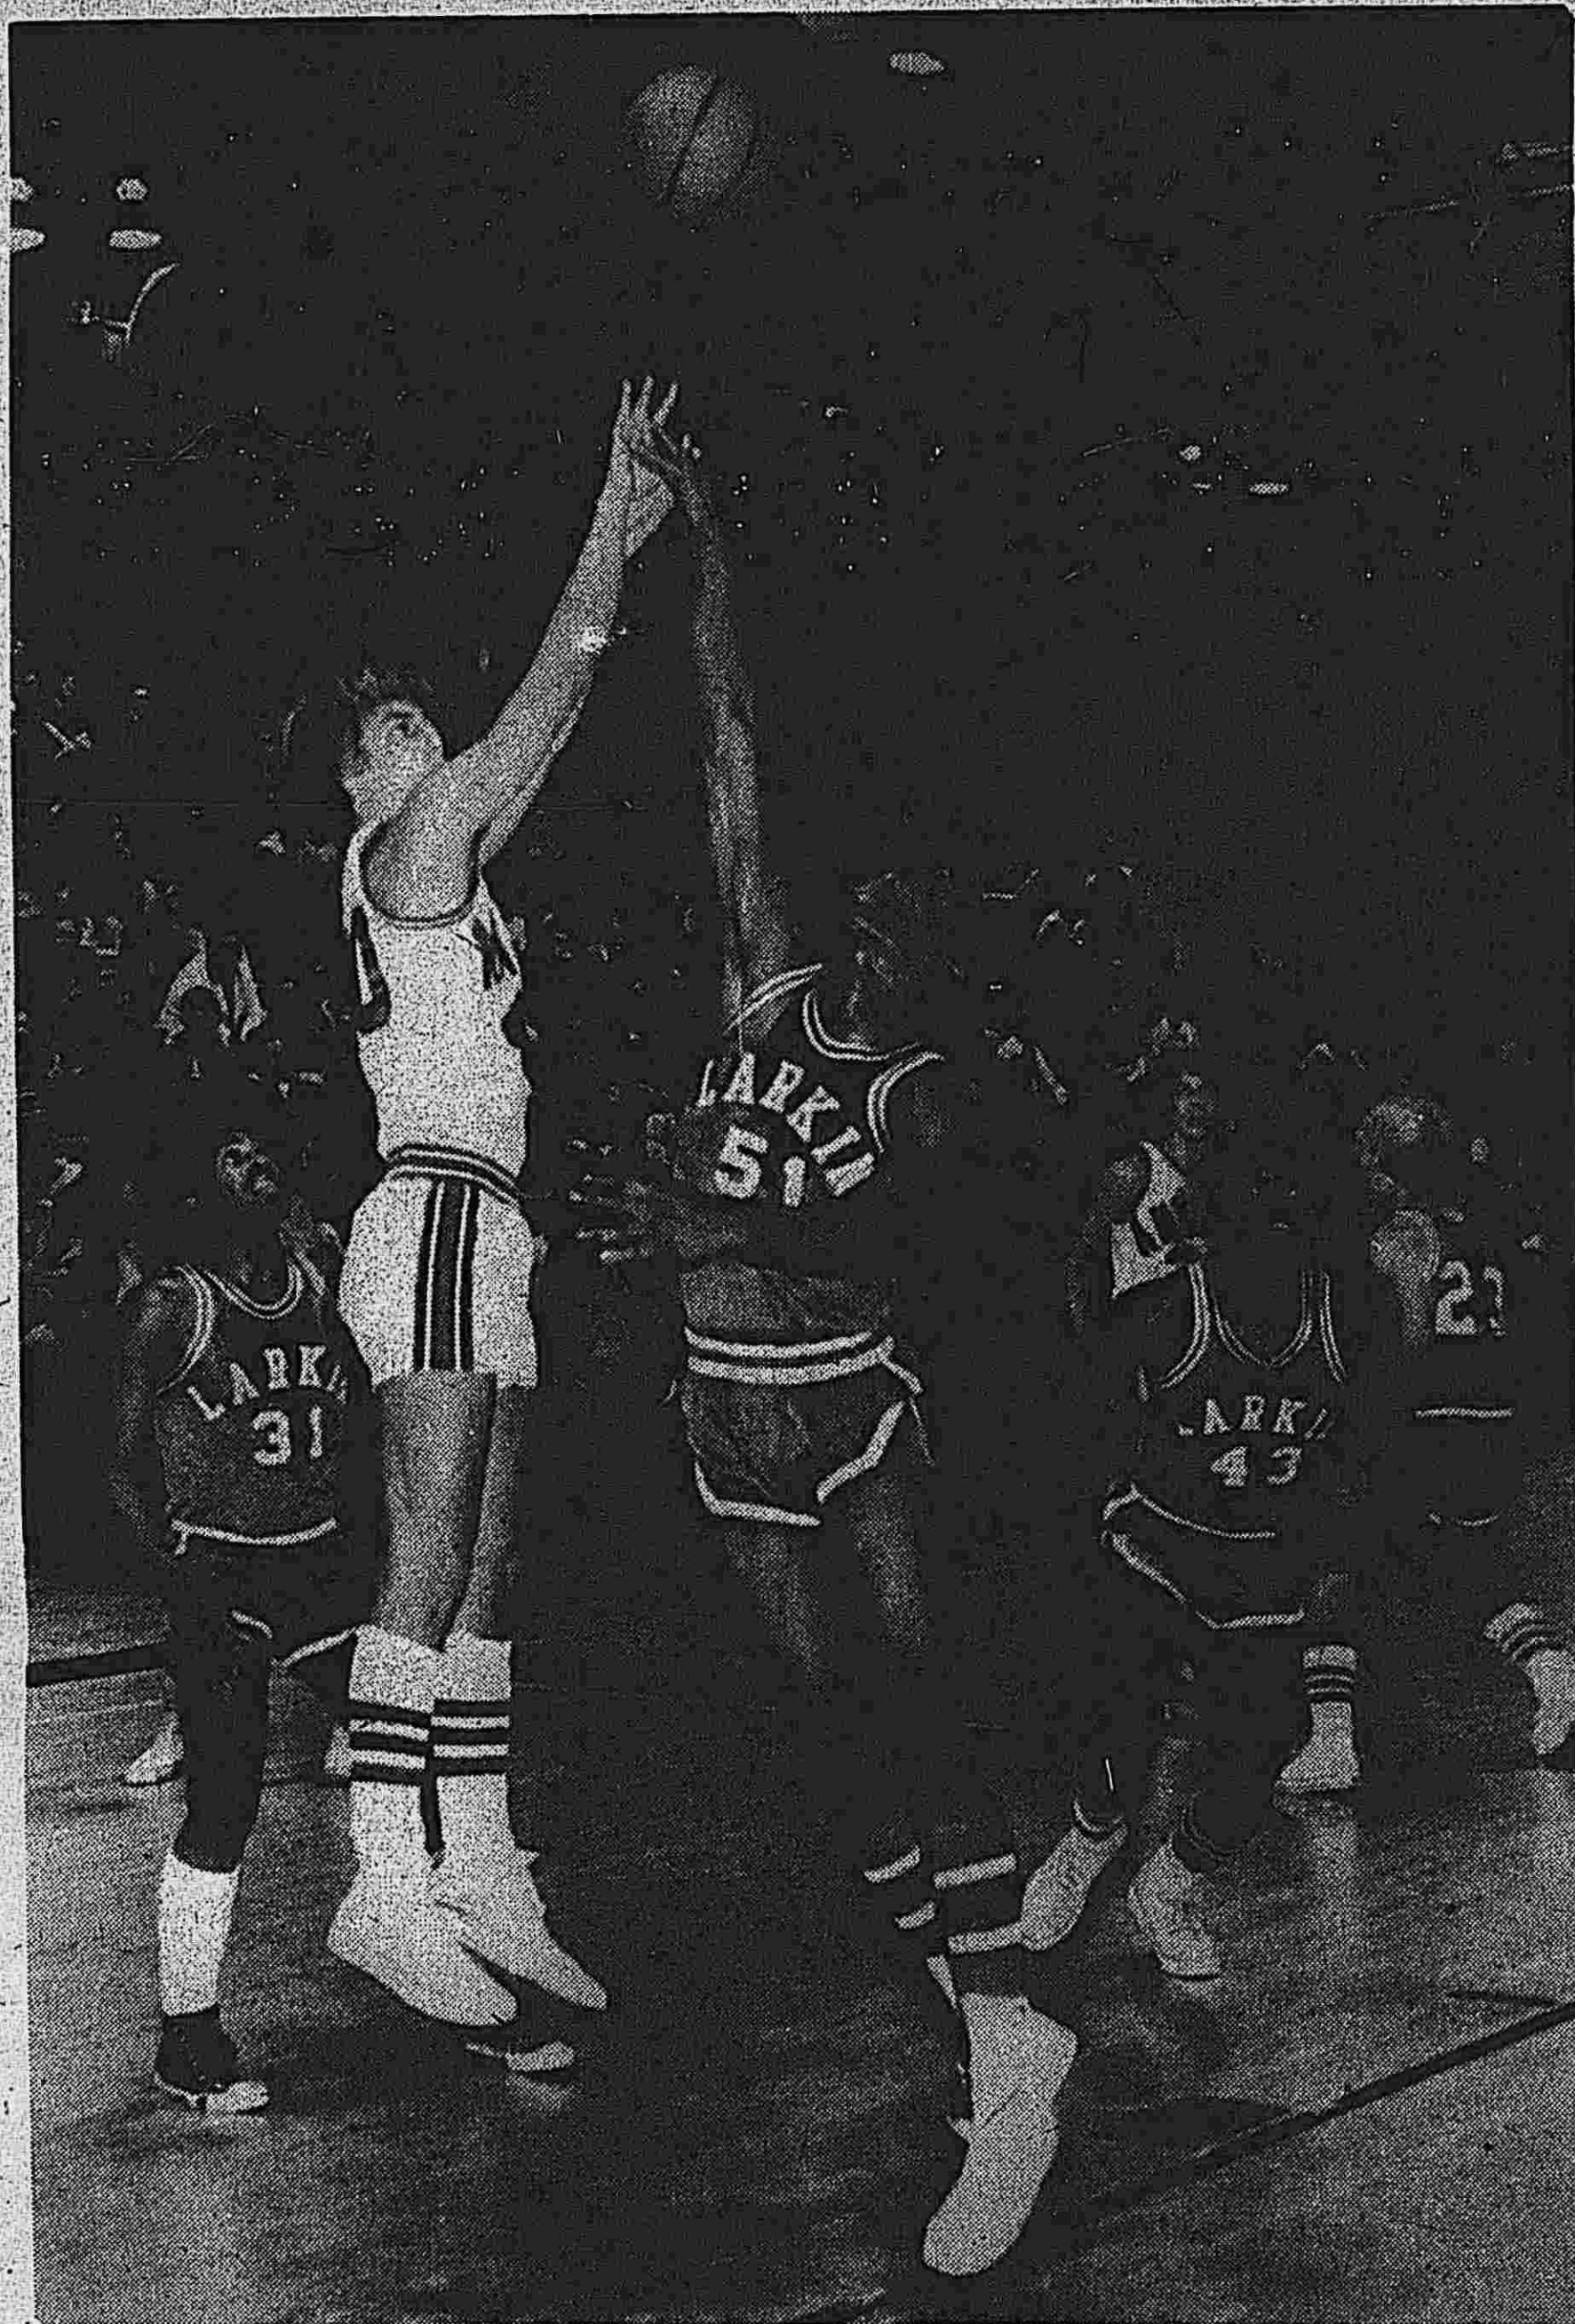

Antioch-Cary-Grove

Cary-Grove's Win over the Sequoits was its first win ever over Antioch. But it didn't come easy.

The Sequoits came storming back to close a third quarter, 15-point deficit to a two-point lead in the final minutes of the game.

But Cary-Grove tied the game, and then scored a basket with four seconds remaining to clinch the victory.

Scoring leader for Antioch for the tournament was Bill Dubek as he popped in 58 points in the three games. His outside shooting is going to prove a real threat for opponents in future games. He also recorded a game-high 17 rebounds against Cary-Grove.

ANTIOCH'S STEVE PILCHER outjumps an Elgin Larkin opponent in order to get off a shot in the Barrington Turkey Classic.

Tracy Sodman put in 37 points and was followed by Brian Andrews with 33 points. Andrews also led the team in rebounding in the first two games.

DESPITE THE THREE LOSSES, Coach Andrews saw some things that make him very optimistic for the rest of the season, mainly:

- (1) The team speed is very good.
- (2) This team can rebound, even against taller teams as evidenced in the Larkin game.
- (3) There are at least four starters capable of scoring in double figures (Dubek, Sodman, Andrews and Tim Huebner).
- (4) The team doesn't give up; it demonstrated the ability to come from behind.

THE TWO MAJOR FLAWS in the Sequoit's performance were turnovers and lack of consistent play. Both can be attributed to inexperience.

"I believe the tournament helped our boys mature a great deal, especially our big boys who learned that they have to be tough to hold their position under the basket," Andrews said.

Gutowskis Win Prizes

Guess who won all three prizes in last week's Antioch News' basketball contest?

Three members of the Bernie Gutowski family of 489 Crest Lane.

Dave Gutowski, 15, hit it right on the head. He picked Barrington to beat Antioch by seven points and that's exactly what happened. He will receive $15 in cash from Pedersen Bros. Implement Co.

Donna Gutowski, 11, chose Barrington by five and won second prize, a $10 gift certificate from BJ's Fashions for Men or BJ's Closet.

Her big brother, Mike, 20, picked Barrington by nine points and wins a $5 gift certificate from Swan's Liquors.

Most of the entrants in the contest selected Antioch to win.

Glen Amundsen was fourth closest, picking Barrington by three.

Another interesting contest appears in today's Antioch News. The "game of the week" is the Sequoits' Saturday night home clash with Lake Forest. But entries must be received or postmarked by 8 p.m. Friday when Antioch plays at Warren. That game is the tie-breaker.

Be sure to enter. It's easy to win. Just ask the Gutowskis.

The Town Crier

I am among the 50 percent of people in Antioch who hate winter.

I agree with golfer Ben Hogan's comment that folks who live in the North during the winter months are either crazy or victims of circumstances.

But I don't entirely agree with Don Pierson, Chicago Tribune sportswriter, about the 50,000 people who left their TV sets to freeze through Sunday's Bear-Packer game.

That nasty man, Pierson, wrote: "...but this is Green Bay, and if you're crazy enough to live here, you might as well torture yourself."

Living in Green Bay, Mr. Pierson, is much nicer than living in Chicago. Green Bay is a beautiful, clean, relatively crime-free city. People who grow up there seldom leave and those who move there, well, you might just say they are fleeing 200 miles to the suburbs.

FEW PEOPLE REALIZE IT, but Antioch's mayor, Bob Wilton, "almost" became a millionaire last May.

In qualifying for the Bicentennial Lottery, the mayor's stub was one of only 50 drawn. From those, they drew five finalists, but Bob wasn't among them. Yet he did receive a prize of $76 in the Illinois State Lottery.

He has a lot of friends here now, but think how many the mayor would have if he were a millionaire. (I'd be the first in line at Wilton Electric.)
